
A Letter to Men: How to Understand Women

The only question that has always been in the mind of a male in this world. The question is how can you understand a woman? That woman can be anyone, your wife, your girlfriend or maybe your friend but the main issue is that from a very long period of time, every male in this world has been thinking that understanding a woman is the most complicated thing to do, but does this theory justify itself? How can you do it without making it complicated? Can you easily understand the psychology of women? We know the answer and it is very easy, the answer is, yes, we can and today we will tell you how you can understand a woman easily. Everyone knows that equality is deserve but there are various social differences between a male and a female. This article will help you understand these basic differences

The Connection

Women want to make sure their relationship is serious not a time pass. After a period of time, establish that closeness as soon as you can, and everything after that will go easily. This doesn't mean you have to stop thinking about your own needs, you have to do everything, for yourself and for the woman in your life so that It doesn't get complicated.

Remember you both are biological different

The main issue is that a woman and a man are different, as mentioned basically women are usually characterized in the "detail-oriented" column. They are considered much more emotional compared to a male and a woman memory is her strongest part, it is hard for a woman to easily forget even the smallest thing you say to them. What makes woman so complicated? The answer can be that they menstruate once a month for four days, on average or simply we can call it "Periods" but this does affect each woman and it cause drastic mood changes, hormone variations, physical pain, tiredness, sickness, increased appetite, and heightened emotional sensitivity.

Don't Jump On Things Too Quicky

If you're not sure about something that is going on in your relationship you should not jump on things too quickly, you have to give time to your partner and listen to what she has to say, you should not force her into anything and find out what your partner needs at that moment. You can politely ask her, "It sounds like you're really upset. Would you like me to listen, or would you like some suggestions?"

Women Are Different

Each woman is different from the other in this world, everyone has their own goals and different perspectives. There are tons of women you'll meet in your life who are different from the others. You can't mistake one woman's behavior as universal which means you can't say that every woman is the same. Some of them may like sports, some of them don't.

Listen To Her

Listening is what you should do if you want to understand someone easily and better, especially women. You can give the woman in your life complete attention and you can talk to her to understand her. Women feel better if someone listens to them. · Talk About Past, Embrace The Future Every woman in the world wants to talk about her family, friends and about her childhood. Mainly if you talk about these things you are surely going to learn a lot about her which will make it easy to understand her. One thing you should keep in mind is that this can be emotional and sensitive so you don't have to force her about this.

Stay Confident

Women love when a guy is confident but you should understand that this doesn't mean you should try to be somebody you are not, but you have to be yourself in front of her.

Never Start A Comparison

You should never compare a woman to another. It is true that women usually compare themselves to other women but you shouldn't do it.

Communicate

You should talk to a woman to understand her better, starting a communication is one of the major things you should do if you want to learn about a particular woman. This helps both of you.

Understand The Social Pressure

A woman daily experiences the social pressures in her life such as sexism and even the pressure to be feminine, and many issues to get success that usually men don't experience. You have to understand this and treat her equally.
