
Proper Early Childhood Education And Racism

What is racism? Racism is a serious issue faced in global. It also defined as a bad attitude towards a person or a group of individuals who has different races, religion, belief, even the colour of skin. Racism has led to a war, slavery, the formation of nations and legal codes. Thus, parent's education have played an important role in reducing the number of racism and belong a prosperous and stable nation.

First of all, racism is caused by parent's improper education. It is because once the children were born, parents give them the first wrong impression about other races such as Malays are lazy, Chinese are cheap and Indian are criminal. The parents' way of communication and actions but also through their unaware and unconscious beliefs will automatically plagiarize by their children. The children will implanted the definition without any doubt by the first improper education who provided by parents. Thus, the children are set with a boundary about other races are bad role model and started to feel their own race is the best compared to others. Hence, children will become ethnocentrism and become unacceptable.

According to previous paragraph, people that having a mindset of ethnocentrism will deny to interact with other races. There are some barriers to limit people get closer in social relation to each other due to some prejudice against another. For example, 13 May 1969 had a conflict between Chinese and Malay and caused at least 196 people killed innocent. This is one of the saddest case occurred by the ethnic conflict and leave a mentality wound for all Malaysian due during that time. Lastly, a people belong a ethnocentrism concept will lead them avoid contact or work together with other races.

Moreover, national economics enfeebled and conflict occurred by lack of communication and cooperation among different races. For instance, Mara Digital Mall is known as Low Yat 2 which provide a platform for bumiputera traders to break through the ICT market with no allow other races join together. Indeed, a stable economic is required a peaceful politic by a well interactive public. Apparently, there is without any interaction among races while conducting work such as business and politics. From a country operation, a well coordination is needed among the different departments. Lastly, a prosperity nation formed, interaction among civil and also a fair treatment serve to all people must be issue.

In conclusion, racism will affect the national peaceful and economic prosperity. There are many cases about racism occurred in certain occasion and everyone is to blame about it. Also, this is because of the unfair treatment to every people by sort in races. As a human begin, we should begin from a same starting line, although realistic always cruel. Thus, a proper early childhood
