
An Issue Of Teenage Pregnancy

Teen pregnancy is also known as adolescent pregnancy, is pregnancy in females under the age of 20. Females can become pregnant for sexual intercourse after she has begun to ovulate, which can be before her first menstrual period but usually occurs after the onset of her periods, and that usually takes place around the age of 12 or 13. Having a baby your teen years is very stressful you will have to get a job, a babysitter, and still try to go to school. There are many different causes of teen pregnancy. The most common cause of teen pregnancy is non use or improper use of birth control or condoms. There are many teens who miss their doctor's appointments for their birth control that end up a teen mom. Peer pressure is also a cause of teen pregnancy which allow friends into having sex earlier than they would have wanted to, which could lead to accidental pregnancy. Drugs and alcohol also plays a big role in teen pregnancy because of the substances alter the mind and can cause a loss of inhibitions or control. When people use drugs or alcohol they really don't have control on what they mind and body feeling.

Rape also causes teens to become pregnant. Some teens may go through rape because of their parents childhood or their body figure. Being molested is another cause of teen pregnancy. Most of the time when people get molested either someone is assaulted or abused sexually and or pester or harass. Sexual abuse is usually undesired sexual behavior by one person upon another. A few impact of teen pregnancy: dropping out of school, struggling the beginning of adulthood, and growing up faster. Dropping out of school is one main impact of teen pregnancy because it normally hard to find someone to keep the baby while you go to school. Also, when people be at school and they pregnant they get made fun of and try to avoid it but the mixed feelings and emotions that they have they really can't control themselves. Getting talked about at school while pregnant might or could cause the mother to do harm to the baby or even herself. Struggling the beginning of their adulthood is because of the young lady is growing up with her child and it is just a child raising a child.

At a young age it is very hard for the teen moms to budget their money to take care of the baby and themselves. Another reason why teen pregnancy is very stressful is because of when the baby is first born all of the things that you have to take care of to make sure your baby is healthy. When teen moms usually move on their own it really is very hard because of everything is falling apart and the family can become homeless. Growing up faster is also a very good impact for teen moms because being a teen parent usually make them get jobs and make them want to do something so they can feel better about themselves and them knowing that they are able to take care of their child. Another reason that makes the moms grow up faster is that they know that they have to be more mature than they other friends and that they can't hang out like they use to anymore. There are very many signs of pregnancy. Missed or very light periods aren't really a good sign of pregnancy but you might want to take a pregnancy test to make sure and to keep track of your periods.

Need help with the assignment?

Our professionals are ready to assist with any writing!

GET HELP

gradesfixer.com

Need help with the assignment?

Our professionals are ready to assist with any writing!

GET HELP